Dear Members, Fellow Justices,

Welcome to our new look for CUSTODES and a big thank you to Michael Cheshire for his hard work. We would welcome your feedback and any hints as to how to better communicate to you the Members.

It was a great day for those of us that were guests of the Attorney General for morning tea at Parliament House on the 31st May and a chance to network and put faces with names, the Association was duly acknowledged by Robert Clarke and appreciated.

In this edition of CUSTODES is your invitation to the Annual Dinner again at the Treacy Conference Centre located in Parkville on the 30th August. Always a good night and I encourage all members to come along and meet other Members and share in their journeys. Our guest speaker this year is the newly appointed Minister for Police, The Hon. Kim Wells who will be joined by representatives from the Department of Justice, Births Deaths and Marriages and State Trustees.

I am pleased to announce that thanks to Past President Garry Runge, we have secured the support of State Trustees for another term reflecting continued partnership between RVAHJ and State Trustees for our training and continued Professional Development. The State Trustees relies heavily on the goodwill and availability of JP’s from our Association for witnessing documents associated primarily with Powers of Attorney, and in return assist with our members training and guidance in this area.

The Board is currently planning another “Conference” as we did in 2011, open to all Justice of the Peace and Bail Justices in Victoria scheduled for October. This was a huge success in 2011. Further details will be conveyed as soon as available.

The Training Committee has set dates for Training/Professional Development for your attendance in June at Morwell, August in Geelong and Royal Melbourne Hospital in September. With the increase in computer generated forms it is important that we supply and you attend regular training courses to enable members to perform their duties in a qualified and honorable manner.

I look forward to meeting members old and new in my travels around Victoria throughout the rest of the year.

Glenda Frost JP
President RVAHJ

Fellow Readers

What a great opportunity to return to the editor’s desk after many years. I am looking forward to an interchange of stories, about what is happening throughout our branches and what the association can bring forward to benefit all justices.

I have started a new section called Quarter Sessions. It is called Quarter Sessions, as it appears quarterly and provides some light hearted background to our branch executives. We hope you will enjoy them.

The Courts of Quarter Sessions or Quarter Sessions were local courts traditionally held at four set times each year in the United Kingdom and other countries in the former British Empire. They generally sat in the seat of each county and county borough.

Thanks to all who supported my appointment and those who have contributed to this edition.

Michael Cheshire JP
Editor

The Quarter Sessions were named after the four annual meetings they held in England and Wales from 1388. These days were later settled as Epiphany, Easter, Midsummer (The Translation of St. Thomas) and Michaelmas sessions.

Thanks to all who supported my appointment and those who have contributed to this edition.

Births Deaths and Marriages have finalised the roll out of training to document signing centres and the membership committee has supported the roster members and branches to facilitate this initiative.
Membership numbers continue to remain constant at 2058 despite the reduction of Honorary Justices numbers state wide. New roster locations are continuing to be requested and for the 2012 calendar year the evaluation of statistics submitted from established signing centres to the RVAHJ indicated an excess of 567,000 documents signed.

The training committee has expanded its membership to support the current training and assist with the development of new training programs. Our directors consider training to be the most significant service that we offer to our members.

A new committee has been established to manage the public relations of the association. This includes the publication of Custodes and the reviewing of products that are available for purchase.

One of the highlights of the year was the annual dinner held in August. The guest speaker for the evening was the Attorney-General the Honourable Robert Clark Minster for Finance. The board and members of the association are extremely grateful for the ongoing support that the Attorney-General has given and his commitment to the future role of JPs and BJs.

During the year the RVAHJ expanded its branch network with the formation of the Wellington Branch and the planning for the commencement of the Westgate Branch due to commence in 2013.

I have been fortunate to have worked with a committed and talented group of board members. I would like to thank each and every one of them for their contributions that ensures that the RVAHJ continues to support the work of its members.

Finally I wish to thank Cathy Owens our office administrator for all of the assistance that she has given to myself, the board and most importantly to the members.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT REPORT

Based on our review, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial report of Royal Victorian Association of Honorary Justices Ltd does not present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Royal Victorian Association of Honorary Justices Ltd as at 31 December 2012, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year ended on that date, in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001.

ROLE OF THE INDEPENDENT THIRD PERSON (ITP) AT A BAIL JUSTICE REMAND HEARING

by Allan Elliott - Coordinator Independent Third Person Program
Office of the Public Advocate, 1/204 Lygon Street, Carlton VIC 3053
T 03 9603 9539 F 1300 305 291 DX 210293
Any queries to Allan - E Allan.Elliott@justice.vic.gov.au

Up until early 2011, Independent Third Persons were not expected to attend out of hours bail hearings at police stations held before a Bail Justice.

The rationale for this policy appeared to be based on a concern that attending bail hearings would place ITPs at risk of breaching the requirement that they must maintain their independence at all times when performing their role, thus creating a possible conflict of interest.

This perceived conflict of interest developed from a misunderstanding of the role of an ITP at a bail hearing, in so far as there was a concern that ITPs would be put in a position of being questioned about whether a person should or should not be granted bail.

By the end of 2010 and early 2011 it became very clear that ITPs were frequently requested by police to attend bail hearings, and many ITPs, in disregard of the policy, were agreeing to attend at hearings.

This prompted a review of the policy which resulted in it being revised in May 2011, in such a way as to extend the role of the ITP to supporting a client at a remand hearing held before a Bail Justice at a police station.

The policy states; if after an interview the police are considering refusing a client bail and are intending to call a Bail Justice to the police station (or any other location where the interview has been conducted), and the ITP is requested by any party (police, Bail Justice or person being interviewed) to be present during a remand hearing, the ITP should attend, but should discuss their intention to attend with all the parties concerned.

If any party refuses to have an ITP present at a remand hearing the ITP should not be present at or participate in the hearing. However, having an ITP present may enhance or assist facilitating the process.

The role of an ITP at a bail hearing is no different from the role at an interview. The ITP would be there to facilitate communication between the person with the cognitive disability or mental illness, the police and the Bail Justice and to ensure the alleged offender understands what bail is and what the conditions of bail are (including the need to attend court) if granted or if denied bail, understand the consequences.

At no stage does an ITP provide advice in relation to a person’s suitability for bail or take any steps to facilitate or advocate for the granting of or denial of bail.

An ITP should not give any undertaking on behalf of a young person or agree to sign bail papers for a young person between 10 and 17 years of age as this is the responsibility of a parent or guardian.

Glen Eira Bayside CIU police have in their possession a bag. The bag was found on 30 April this year in a laneway in Caulfield North.

This bag contained an assortment of jewellery & watches - no identification was in the bag. A set of cuff links & tie pin with ‘Royal Victorian Association of Honorary Justices’ was in the bag.

They have been unable to locate the owner of this property. I’m hoping one of your members may have mentioned the loss of this item or perhaps you may be able to tell me of any members who live in that area. They are assuming they may be the proceeds from a burglary. Unfortunately not every victim of a crime reports it to the police.

If you think you can help with finding the owner, please contact the Glen Eira Bayside CIU.

CONTINUING APPOINTMENT AS A PEOPLE OF AUSTRALIA AMBASSADOR

Judge Rauf Soulio, chair of the Australian Multicultural Council has extended the appointment of justice of the peace Deepak Vinayak as a People of Australia Ambassador for a further 12 month term.

“In 2012, Council members were struck, not only by the commitment and enthusiasm of the inaugural Ambassadors, but by the insights that have been offered by your local communities. The Council is honoured to be involved with the program and we are very pleased to see you returning for a further year. That the vast majority of your fellow 2012 Ambassadors have also committed to a further 12 months is a very pleasing and encouraging result.” Judge Soulio wrote to Mr Vinayak.

“In consultation with the Minister for Multicultural Affairs, the AMC has called for further nominations for a modest number of new Ambassadors to join the program in 2013. Our focus is on regional areas and encouraging applications from young people however I anticipate that the program will see some fresh faces from many walks of life.” Judge Soulio continued.

Judge Soulio said he was pleased to advise that a dedicated contact point for Ambassadors has been established within the Multicultural and Settlement Policy Branch of the Department of Immigration and Citizenship.

Deepak Vinayak is a JP and a member since 2008
IN CONJUNCTION with International Day of People with Disability, South Gippsland Shire Council held a small celebration on 3rd December 2012.

It also recognised three people who have overcome obstacles to excel in their own lives and the local community.

Mayor Cr Kieran Kennedy presented the council’s Access and Inclusion Committee’s inaugural South Gippsland Achievement Award for a Person with Disability to Peter Carruthers.

Peter actively participates in the community with the support of an electric buggy, despite suffering a major stroke 17 years ago, losing the use of his right arm and impairment of the right side of his body.

With a life history of community leadership and contribution, Peter has continued to make a difference, demonstrating honesty and integrity in his endeavours.

He is an active member of the Leongatha RSL and also assists with the Leongatha Fire Brigade and the district’s Veteran Welfare Centre.

Two recognition awards were also presented on the day, with the first given to Doug Prescott, who was described as a capable man who contributes in many valuable ways to his community.

Mr Prescott is a Justice of the Peace, making himself readily available to the police and the community to add his authority and friendly advice when needed.

He is also president of his local senior citizens club and has worked with local councils to provide advice on disability issues, and still has time to be a devoted father and family man who lives life to the fullest, playing bowls and pottering in the garden.

The next award went to Alex Walsh, who at 21 years old has not let a motor cycle accident, which left him confined to a wheelchair in 2009, impair his great spirit.

Alex has overcome personal challenges and achieved outcomes that he never imagined possible, focusing on his capability rather than his disability.

Employed by Oz Sport, he now gives talks and works with school children to encourage them to become involved in sport after school.

Alex is passionate about hand cycling and also works with others in the motorcycling community who have suffered similar accidents to become involved in cycling and other sports.

April 25, 2013 started as every ANZAC day with the dawn service. Normally I would ride with fellow motorcyclists to the Shrine for the dawn service. This year I attended the dawn service at Pearcedale a small rural township, 40 minutes south east from Melbourne’s CBD. The service was well attended by the people of Pearcedale and district including school children, coming to remember Australians who died in the service of the Commonwealth of Australia. I was honoured to be a part of the service among so many young families. I felt even more strongly that ANZAC day should continue to be recognised as it is. In saying that, we must not just remember those who fell in the First World War but include all military conflicts where Australian service personnel fought. Otherwise those contributions will be forgotten and be diminished with time.

At 10.45am I attended Hastings RSL as the nominated Justice of the Peace from our Mornington RVAHJ Branch to lay the wreath on behalf of the membership. This ANZAC service was also well attended by the community and school children from the district. The military guard was from HMAS Cerberus at both the Pearcedale and the Hastings service. We were fortunate to have the Melbourne Welsh Male Choir singing during this service. As at all ANZAC day services the day wouldn’t run without volunteers who put in so many hours before and after the event.

On behalf of the branch membership and community I represent: thank you, and I look forward to meeting you again in fellowship next ANZAC day.

Geelong Branch of the RVAHJ

Although members continued over the Christmas/New Year with roster duties at both the Geelong and Corio Police Stations our first official meeting was held on Monday 4 March 2013 at the Geelong Police complex.

The guest Speaker for the evening was Barrie Sutherland – Pioneer Surfer and Surf Photographer, his subject being “The heritage of surfing in Victoria and especially Bells Beach”. Surfing owes so much to the great black and white images shot by Barrie in the 60’s and 70’s.

Barrie’s talk was most interesting together with the range of black and white photographs taken by him in the 50’s, 60’s and 70’s, not only of the surf beaches, but also including a number of prints of the Geelong area at that period.

He spoke on the developing of surfing beaches including Bells Beach, Jan Juc, Point Addis and Torquay but also experiences surfing at Kennett River, Wye River, Apollo Bay and other places along the Great Ocean Road which were as popular then as they are today.

Barrie also spoke on the development of industries such as Rip Curl, manufacturing surfing equipment and clothing and the many “local” champion surfers produced during that era.

His talk brought back many memories and questions of the times to local Justices who lived and grew up in Geelong during the 50’s, 60, and 70’s.

Training and refresher course

The RVAHJ has programmed a training course to be held at the Geelong Police Complex on Saturday 17th August 2013 and all members will receive an invitation to attend this update. In due course members will receive an official invitation to attend but in the meantime note in your diary the date and place.

BEFORE SMART PHONES

Some time ago, an inquest at the Coroner’s Court was into its twelfth day when the accused, finally stepped into the witness box. In the middle of questioning, a small piece of paper was handed to the Coroner’s Assistant by one of the detectives in the case. The paper then passed by way of the defence counsel and bench clerk, until finally it reached the Coroner. Press reporters stirred in anticipation of viewing this piece of paper. However, much to their disappointment, the paper was retained by the bench clerk at the conclusion of the proceedings. Written on the paper were the words “West Indies, 9 for 275.”
The Training Team have scheduled several sessions of the Document Witnessing course in the coming months. This training is ideal for the newly-appointed Honorary Justice or as a refresher for the more experienced. It covers your duties and legal responsibilities when witnessing documents (Affidavits, Statutory Declarations, Certified True Copies and Powers of Attorney).

Q. Can I certify copies of e-mails or other electronically-generated documents?

A. Increasingly, you may be presented with documents, such as printouts of e-mails or computer-generated bank statements, with the request that you certify copies of these documents as copies of original documents. But, should you?

Confirmation has been received from the Department of Justice Victoria that such documents should not be accepted as original documents.

So what can you do? Here are a few suggestions:

- Suggest they seek an original document from the issuer;
- Suggest they seek certification of the copy from the issuer;
- Suggest they make the printout an attachment to a Statutory Declaration where they declare the said attachment to be an unaltered, computer-generated printout. (It should be noted that no guarantee is made that such a declaration will be acceptable to the end recipient.)
Since its foundation over 100 years ago, Master Painters Australia has functioned as an independent representative for firms and individuals conducting business in the painting, decorating and sign writing trades. We are a non-profit employer association managed by a group of elected directors.

The single most authoritative organisation in its field, the MPA has two principal objectives assisting the interests of its members in a business sense and ensuring that the professional standards of the industry are upheld. The MPA also offers consumers an independent inspection and reporting service for disputes in relation to VCAT.

As the demand by consumers grow for sustainable paints and products, MPA members that have completed the 22002VIC Sustainable Painting Practice Course will be ready to meet that demand by having qualified operators that will be able to inform potential customers on enviro friendly paint products and accessories.

We recommend that you employ only members of the Industry association.

AN MPA MEMBER WILL

- Meet strict guidelines and follow a Code of Ethics
- Have all relevant insurances
- Provide a written quote
- Give you a professional painting solution

South Australia is the State which not only was the first State to give women the vote, but may be the first Justice Association in the Commonwealth. The RVAHJ journal “The Justice of the Peace” April 1960 states that: A new Honorary Registrar has been appointed by the Justices’ Association Incorporated, the South Australian counterpart to this association, and in fact the parent Association of Justices of the Peace within the British Empire, being founded in 1898 and incorporated in 1904.

Esquire. (Old French, esquire from Latin scutarius, shield bearer). One who carried the shield of a Knight and which ranked immediately below him. In 1893 the College of Heralds held that:

The following persons as legally “Esquires”: The sons of peers, the sons of baronets, the sons of knights, the eldest sons of the younger sons of peers, and their eldest sons in perpetuity, the eldest son of the eldest son of a knight, and his eldest son in perpetuity, the knight of arms, the herald of arms, officers in the Army or Navy of the rank of captain and upwards, sheriffs of counties for life, justices of the peace of counties whilst in commission, serjeants-at-law, Queen’s counsel, serjeants-at-arms, Companions of the Orders of Knighthood, certain principal officers in the Royal household, deputy lieutenants, commissioners of the Court of Bankruptcy, masters of the Supreme Court, those whom the Sovereign, in any commission or warrant, styles esquire, and any person who, in virtue of his office, takes precedence of esquires.

Such efforts to restrict the title proved abortive and it is widely applied in correspondence, etc: (abbreviated to “Esq”), as an alternative to “Mr”.
